

COMMUNITY GARDENER/COORDINATOR

Organisation - FORFAR OPEN GARDEN SCHEME

Location - Lochside Road, Forfar

Type of contract - 1 year with possible extension

Hours of work - 37 hrs. summertime, 30 hrs. winter with some evening and weekend work

Salary - £18000 - £22000 F/T per annum depending on experience

Excellent opening for someone with a strong interest in gardening to manage and develop a recently established community garden. The purpose of the garden is to assist individuals in improving their mental, social and physical well being and have the opportunity to develop horticulture skills.

We are looking for a person with vision and energy to carry forward a project which is already helping vulnerable individuals. It would help to have experience working or volunteering in mental health, physical health or learning disabilities.

The role will involve planning and managing the garden and related activities, coordinating volunteers who help in the garden and extending and supporting further involvement of the community and related organisations.

Forfar Open Garden Scheme is a registered charity that oversees the running of the garden for the benefit of the public and community and health groups.

How to apply - send a note of interest and CV to gordon.peterkin@btinternet.com by Friday 1st September.
